

One River Point by Rafael Viñoly gives Miami's downtown renaissance its defining architectural statement.

Two slender 60-story towers rise above a floating podium from which a serene waterfall cascades 85 feet to a shimmering pool below appearing to flow into the Miami River. From its vantage point within the lush parkland setting, the elevated podium affords broad vistas across the river, the city and to the bay beyond.

The signature waterfall and the landscaped expansive River Promenade will be the focal point of arrival on the Miami River. Offset and perpendicular to each other, the towers are joined again at the summit by a 3-story Skybridge, creating an iconic silhouette on the downtown skyline. A vertical landmark rising out of a thriving landscape in the heart of downtown Miami, One River Point fulfills the promise of this unique location.

The location affords privileged proximity to everything that is making Miami, America's rising capital of commerce and culture. The high-fashion and fine-dining experiences of Brickell City Centre are a short walk away. The diverse restaurants and bars of Miami's burgeoning Riviera are close by, while the Arts and Cultural District, Miami's Design District, and the cool creative community of Wynwood are all in close proximity.

The ocean beaches of South Beach, Mid Beach and Miami's international airport are all quickly accessible.

The riverfront parkland fully complements the urban setting, with shady palm-fringed terraces creating a relaxing retreat from the vibrant streets beyond. Diverse gourmet experiences; boutique hotel style ambience and amenities; and the exclusive Sky Club, curated by Adrian Zecha, combine to create a truly unique environment and experience.

In One River Point Viñoly proves definitively that landmark luxury doesn't have to be built on sand.
